The intense heat s kept society in a quiet state, and only informal entertainments are now The "sweet girl graduate" holds sputed sway at this season of comcements. The closing exercises of the an's College during the past week ere of more than usual interest. The ss-day celebration was especially bright and joyous. Several of the girls' schools of the city also closed last week.

The closing exercises of Miss Ellett's hool began on Thursday afternoon, June ist, and continued through an entire week, ach class in the school had an evening which it presented its especial exers. On Thursday afternoon at 6 o'clock he sixth class gave on interesting talk "The Nature of Plants," The little girls, in their white dresses, with their right heads crowned with flowers, made n exquisite picture as they stood in a emi-circle. Each child had a spray in her hand, of which she told the history For Friday, at 8:30 o'clock, the fourth class sent out dainly invitations request-ing the presence of their friends at "A Tale of Two Citick." The class sang "the Tale of Two Cities." The class sang "the Marselliats" with spirit, after which charming stereopticon views of England and France were shown.

On Monday, at 6:30 o clock, the seventh, eighth, and ninth classes presented a very altractive programme. Each tiny child recited a poem about a bird, and ended the evening by singing sweetly, "Come Unto These Yellow Sands," from the Tempest.

On Tuesday evening, at $:30 o'clock, the first class presented the chronothanatoletron. The inventor of this wondrous machine turned the crank, and Sarah (Abraham's wife), Pharaoh's daughter, St. ngten, Joan of Arc, Mother Beck-the society girl of 1839, one of the it and the Spirit of nineteenth-censcience, culture, and art, stepped one by one, and spoke of them-. The final exercises took place on Thursday evening, when the fifth class presented a Greek play, entitled "The Elyslan Fleida." The little maidens, clad in classic Greek costume, their curls bound with filbuts of white, seemed, in truth, the rosy maids of Greece. The clase was literally covered with flowers, as each malden told graphically her and as each maiden told graphically her just of the stirring story, one could most see the scenes she portrayed. The just closed with a Greek song, in the learning sweet cadences of which the indicen's fresh voices sounded to perfection. Each evening of the different classes was well arranged and well executed, and delighted the large audiences who witnessed them.

On Friday evening a large sudlence witnessed the closing exercises of Mrs. Mende's School of Languages and Kin-German and English songs and recitations and a Delsarte drill, was varied and entertaining. A short intermission was enjoyed by the patrons of the school in examining the work of the kindergarten. Essays were road by Miss Louisa C. McGre and Miss Louy S. The "Books of the Year" were charmingly reviewed on Monday at the Wo-man's Club by Mrs. Charles G. Bosher and Mrs. J. R. V. Daniel. Mrs. Bosher read a clever and delightful paper of the biography and travel of the year. Mrs. Daniel reviewed the fiction of the year in a delightful manner, and then read a paper on the "Agony Books," writ-ten and read by her sister, Mrs. Cantley, before the Woman's Club, of Baltimore. This paper was very well written and was much enjoyed.

After the programme was over ten was served. In spite of the extreme heat of the day quite a number of ladies were present. Tea will be served at the club every Monday throughout June.

Conspicuous among the nuptials of the past week was the wedding of a forme fair daughter of Richmond, Miss Ruth Merriam, daughter of Captain Lewis Merriam, of the United States army, to Dr. Shultz, of Washington, D. C. The mar-riage was solemnized on the 8th instant, in St. John's Episcopal church, Washington, D. C., the rector, Kev. Mackey Smith, officiating. The bride was gowned in white satin, with mull drupe. F. 130 carried bride's roses. She was attended by her mald of honor, Miss Shultz, who was most becomingly gowned in white silk. Mr. Duncan was the groom's choice of best man. Exotics and a profusion of cut-flowers, together with the handsome array of the guests present, made the scene presented one of brilliancy. the marriage was at high noot, and largely attended by the army and havy and the fashionables of Washington, Among the guests were General and Mrs. Suddington, General and Mrs. Hawkins, General and Mrs. Schwan, General and Mrs. Stanton, General and Mrs. Stanton, General and Mrs. Sterabetg, Major and Mrs. Monigomery, Governor and Mrs. Meriam, Captain and Mrs. Mullhart, Captain and Mrs. Parsons, Misses Ruby Bodeker and Nellie Hegesty of Biolomond Vo.
